SNEAK PEEK AT CLASS OF 2012

The 2012 Australian and New Zealand timber design awards were scheduled for release at the time this issue of timber+DESIGN went to press, but we were unable to secure embargoed details about the winners.

However, organisers of the Australian event have released images from shortlisted entries – some of which appear on this preview page. We emphasise that they are not necessarily among the winners.

In future issues, we will present exclusive interviews and images from this year's Australasian competitions, and from the UK Wood Awards, which were also judged around the same time. ■
